vote, of the thieves, blowers and strikers of the country. [Cheers.]

Don't you think they will vote against him by a large majority? Who will vote for him? You know my friends, the men who have succeeded in life, who when they were boys, studied by fire light in the cabin, or in the humble home; who worked on farms, in stores, in shops, in mines and forests, and who by grit, bravery and brain, wrought out their way to success.

These by a large majority will vote for

James A. Garfield. [Applause.]

Yes, we can greet you, with an "A I

Hail." She does rejoice that it was her fortune, not only to point the way, but that her vote, was the first to seal the domination, and from that height the clouds of the convention were left behind;

the sun again shone resplendent on the old

Republican banner. On its folds, the name of our nominee and of assured victory at the polls. Long cheering.]

Official Paper of the City and County.

BRIEFLETS.

—Nice and warm.
—Not much trouble with tramps.
—Harris' The Chicago mail arrived this morning all right.
—The public schools close next Friday, for the summer vacation.
—Adam Aris was slightly hurt at the Harris works this afternoon. Only a flesh wound.
—Mrs. McHenry, the census enumerator of the First Ward reports the population as 2,413.
—The City Council chamber will be through house cleaning this week, and will look gay when finished.
—At the meeting of the State Teachers' Association in Madison, Miss Etta S. Carle is to have as a topic, "Walks in and about Naples."
—The gutters are being cleared out so that the next rains will not have to flow over the sidewalks in finding their way to the river.
—F. F. Prentice is expected home from Minnesota to-morrow afternoon, but J. B. Doe, Jr., expects to start for the West, and visit Colorado before his return.
—Ballet yesterday sent up to Hotel de Comstock six boarders, one who had got tired by drinking, and five who had got tired by travelling. Ten days each.
—We have been shown an excellent oil portrait of the little daughter of John Myers. It is the work of Albert Skiff, and shows rare good judgment and skill on the part of the artist.
—A parrot belonging to Mrs. Lappin got out on the fly this morning, and has not been heard from. Anyone catching and returning the same will render the family a good service.
—There are three persons in the First ward, and one in the Third ward who were born in mid-ocean. In the latter ward the census enumerator found one who was born in Spain.
—The analysis of the water of Notbom's well has been completed, and is said to show many good medicinal qualities. A mineral spring is all that Janesville needs to make it equal to any summer resort in the land.
—O. H. Fethers has been engaged to deliver the oration at the celebration at Janesville on the 31st of July. All of the eastern portion of Green county are to unite in this celebration at Janesville. Mr. Fethers is also to deliver an oration at Evansville on the 31st.
—A telephonic young gent who lives on Milton Avenue, was asked by a lady friend why he pastured his horse and cow in his front yard. He answered "so that the neighbors might know we like milk." The neighbors had supposed, it was because the horse and cow were averse to grass, by the looks of the lawn.
—The Chicago and Northwestern Railway will sell round trip tickets from all its stations, for the Fourth of July celebrations, at largely reduced rates. Tickets will be sold at all stations on July 31, 4th, and 5th, and good to return to and including July 6th. Do not forget that this is via the Chicago and Northwestern Railway.
—Samples of "Sapone" are being passed around for trial. It is a unique kind of soap, which comes in a condensed form and when dissolved in water is said to take the stains out of everything except, perhaps, out of man's character. Some big things are claimed for this "Sapone," and it is an easy matter to try it and see what it will do.
—One of Janesville's ladies fair was recently dazed by her big brother-in-law to have her hair cut off in the latest sand-papiered manner. The brother-in-law offered to bet $10 she hadn't the courage to do it. She covered that $10, and the clipping machine soon moved off the beautiful hair, and the stake was hers. She is sorry, now, but then who would be bluffed by a brother-in-law?
—The arrangements which have been planned for having a military showing here on the Fourth, have fallen through. Letters received from the companies at Delavan, Whitewater and Beloit, state that they cannot come, and the Bower City Rifles are engaged to go to Monroe, so the bottom has fallen out. Some other plan will doubtless be substituted to make the day attractive here, but it is getting late to do much.

THE WEATHER.

REPORTED BY PRENTICE & EVERSON DRUGGISTS.

The thermometer at 6 o'clock last night stood at 91 degrees above; at 1 o'clock a.m. to-day at 70 degrees above; at 7 o'clock a.m. at 75 degrees above; and at 1 o'clock p.m. at 89 degrees above. Partly cloudy.

The indications to-day are for the upper lake region, clear weather followed by increasing cloudiness, possibly by rain areas, stationary or lower temperature, falling barometer, and southerly winds.

A CHILD NAMED "AMEN."

He was taking the census, and when he struck a woman with thirteen children, the youngest not able to leave its mother's lap, and the eldest a boy whose voice hadn't changed yet, he had to sit down and spend a half day writing up the record. He got the names of all the children at last, by checking them off by a red chalk mark on the forehead, as fast as they were counted, but when it came to the babe the fond mother told him she hadn't had time yet to name that one. The census man proposed to name the child himself rather than have the little one miss the opportunity of having its name appear upon the public record. The woman suggested that one of her friends had recommended naming the child "Amen." The man of records asked if he should put that down as the child's name, and she saying she didn't care, down it went, and that child goes into history christened with the unique name of Amen.

HOME AGAIN.

The Welcome Given Congressman Williams on His Return Home.
Last evening a large number of our citizens, together with the Bower City Band, proceeded to the residence of Congressman Charles G. Williams to express their hearty welcome, and to extend cordial greetings upon his return home. The gate was lifted from its hinges in a hospitable manner, and the crowd being allowed to swarm into the yard, took standing room upon the lawn, crowded the verandas and balconies, and in fact took possession of the premises, while the street in front was thronged with carriages, and the sidewalk well lined with ladies and gentlemen. A transparency gotten up hastily was carried as a guide board to point the way for the crowd to follow, as they marched up to the residence. This transparency wasn't handsome, and as a specimen of Janesville's art-culture might be subject to criticism, but it bespoke volumes of honest hearty welcome in its simple words—"Hon. C. G. Williams, At Home,"—and to add to the seeming extent of the welcome beyond party lines, a pair of staunch Democratic hands clung to the standard on which it was raised. The band continued their playing after reaching Mr. Williams' house, while several of the stalwart Republican leaders brought the honored gentleman to the front, and stationed him where he could most conveniently greet and be greeted. There was enthusiastic applause as he appeared, and when the music had ceased, Mr. A. H. Baxter, in behalf of the Republican Club, of Janesville, of which he is Chairman, and in behalf of the citizens and friends assembled, extended the welcome of all, in the following words:
MR. WILLIAMS: We as your friends have assembled here to extend to you cordial greetings on your return from the National Capital to your old Rock county home, and not only thus to greet you, but to express the heartfelt satisfaction with which we have witnessed your course in Congress. Your friends are especially pleased at the high and distinguished position which you now hold in the councils of the nation, and recognize you as a veteran and leader in the grand Republican army. But we have come here not only to extend to you friendly greetings and a hearty welcome home, but to hear from you something concerning that glorious leader under whose banner we shall march to certain victory in November next. We learn that for years you sat within elbow reach of him in the House, of Representatives—in fact a next door neighbor, and we want to learn something from you concerning General Garfield, the nominee of the National Republican party. Friends and neighbors, you did not come here to listen to me, but to our distinguished representative, and now in giving him the opportunity to address you, in accordance with your wish, I propose three cheers for the Hon. C. G. Williams.
The words were scarcely uttered when the cheers started with enthusiasm, and gave to each an opportunity of expressing thus the welcome felt by all. As soon as quiet had been restored Mr. Williams addressed the crowd, and for fifteen or twenty minutes held the strictest attention, and called out the most enthusiastic applause.
He said it was impossible to find words to express the gratitude for the kindness and cordial greeting expressed by their presence and by the words just uttered. It was naturally pleasant to a man to gain the plaudits of the thousands, but still more gratifying to gain the approval of those at home, where any man must be tried at last and tried in earnest.
In accordance with the expressed wish of all, through their spokesman, Mr. Williams spoke of the nominee of the Republican party, relating many personal incidents concerning the great standard bearer of the party, and although bespeaking his praises, and showing a wide-awake enthusiasm for him, he kept his opening promise not to dwell upon partisan politics on this occasion. He outlined many of the events and struggles in Garfield's life, as he had learned them from his own lips, and did not forget to give the Janesville boys a little good talk on the lessons to be learned from the biography of such a grand specimen of self-made manhood.
Mr. Williams paid a tribute to Mr. Blaine for the loyal manner in which he not only stood by the party and its nomination, but for the gallant heartiness with which he proposed to enter into the active campaign for Garfield, and the readiness with which he had promised to come West and speak for the cause.
He also spoke of Sherman's tribute to Garfield, and the fact that Sherman pronounced Garfield's military record as one of the grandest of any man in the country.
Mr. Williams pictured the nominee of the Republican party as a soldier, a patriot, statesman and scholar, and declared his belief that this was pretty good presidential timber. He predicted with confidence that this man was as sure to be elected as November was to come.
The whole address was glowing and eloquent, and showed that Mr. Williams has entered the campaign with a heart full of enthusiasm and courage. In closing he again returned thanks for the cordial reception given him, gave all a "God bless you," and urged them not to go away, until he had a chance to shake hands with them.
The cheers and hand shaking followed, and for a half-hour more there was a lively scene upon the lawn. The affair was throughout, one of the joyous and spontaneous eruptions of good nature, which made it seem good for each to be there, and it was only with the understanding that they should see and hear more of Mr. Williams later, that the crowd were content to withdraw, and allow him the needed rest.

UNHAPPY HAPPENINGS.

A Little Child Badly Scalded by Tipping Over a Boiler of Hot Water—The Oldest Person in the City Meets with an Accident.
A terrible accident yesterday afternoon befall a little three-year old daughter of Isaac McCauley, who lives on the road to Center, about three miles from this city. Mrs. McCauley was doing her washing and the little child was playing about the room. Suddenly the child grabbed hold of the edge of a boiler of hot water, and tipped it over onto herself, and was thereby terribly scalded. The flesh of her back and limbs particularly being in places literally cooked. Dr. Sutherland was at once called, and cared for the little sufferer, whose chances of recovery seem very doubtful indeed, though there is a possibility that the child may live.

MORE TROUBLE.

Mrs. Randall, whose husband died a few days ago, met with a very serious accident last evening. She attempted to rise from her chair, and in some way fell, causing a bad fracture of the thigh bone. Mrs. Randall is doubtless the oldest person in this city, her age being ninety-two, and her age and consequent infirmities render the probabilities of her recovery very doubtful. The sympathies of all are drawn out to her as this trouble follows so quickly upon the heavy loss which has been hers.

A PITCH HOLE.

As J. K. Millmore and his mother were driving home from church, Sunday night, the buggy wheels struck into a hole near the Catholic church, the horse jumped, and both mother and son were thrown from the buggy. Mrs. Millmore's shoulder was dislocated.

MORE ABOUT THE MAILS.

Janesville seems not to have been so much inconvenienced by the washouts and delays in mails as other places. The following is a sample of how other places have been troubled:

To the Editor.

COLUMBUS, Wis., June 21, 1890.
I can answer "M. C. S." communication in regard to the mails, especially along the line of the La Crosse division. Last week no mails could go past Wyocena, this side of Portage, and the night train from Chicago, was taken off for the week. We had no mail at all for three days, except by stage, and when ran all right, we got two mails a day from Chicago.

Yours,

C. A. CANTER.

All Indorse It.

MILWAUKEE GRAIN REPORT.

Special Correspondence Janesville Gazette.
MILWAUKEE, June 21—9 a. m.
DEAR SIR:—During the past week our market has ruled very irregular, with a nervous unsettled feeling, influenced mainly by reports favorable or adverse to the growth of crop, selling down to 92c cents for July, and 86c cents for August, on Wednesday, with cash wheat at a premium of one-half to three-fourths cents over July. The decline brought some large buying orders, and a sharp reaction resulted, carrying prices rapidly up to 96 cents for July, and 88c cents for August delivery, cash or June meanwhile selling up to 94c cents, closing on Saturday at 93c cents cash, 90c cents for July, and 86c cents for August.

The demand for cash wheat for shipment and local milling has been large throughout the week, our stocks showing a reduction of 50,000 bushels, leaving the amount in store about 700,000 bushels less than at this time last year, a large proportion of which is held by millers for home use.

Reports from seaboard points indicate increased activity in the outward movement, exports for the week of wheat and flour reduced to wheat-totting up 3,750,000 bushels. The total exports from Atlantic ports of wheat, and flour reduced to wheat, since the beginning of the present crop year, August 1st, to date, have been 125,922,614 bushels, showing that although about six weeks removed from the new crop we have already exported 3,508,000 bushels more than the average yearly reports for a number of years.

Receipts here show a slight increase, the daily average for the week being about 26,000 bushels as against 17,000 bushels the previous week, 77,000 bushels same week last year, 48,000 bushels for the same week in 1878.

The total receipts at spring wheat points for the week were 346,550 bushels as compared with 30,992 the previous week, and 884,673 for the corresponding date in 1879.

The amount of wheat is eight in this country as reported up to the 15th inst. was 17,934,000 bushels, showing a decrease since last report of 1,646,000, still leaving the "visible supply" larger by about 4,000,000 bushels than at a corresponding date in 1879.

The amount of wheat on passage for Great Britain and the Continent, reported up to the 15th instant, was 30,400,000 bushels, a decrease since the previous report of 1,280,000 bushels, though larger by nearly 5,000,000 bushels than at the same time last year.

The grand total in sight in this country and about for all Europe, aggregating 38,414,000 bushels, as against 41,310,000 bushels the previous week, and 29,730,000 bushels at a corresponding date in 1879.

Late advices from abroad report the crops in due condition and outlook promising for a large harvest, though in some sections it must necessarily be a late one. The general outlook for the coming crop in this country considered as less favorable than one week ago, and does not promise as large a harvest as at this time last year. The excessive rains throughout the North and West have resulted in more or less damage in all sections. Our advices from the Eastern or winter wheat sections note grave apprehensions of damage from the army worm, which has appeared in large numbers. As yet, however, it is too early to estimate the extent of damage by any or all of these evils, although the condition in the Northwestern wheat growing sections is such as to warrant the prediction that even with the most favorable weather for the next two or three weeks the harvest cannot yield over one-half an average crop in that section.

Foreign markets have ruled steadier, closing for the week 1d per cental lower on spot wheat; cargoes to arrive being quoted the same as at date of our last. There is still a fair margin of profit on shipments. Our No. 2 spring wheat has sold down in Liverpool at $1.20, and cargoes of spring to arrive are quoted at $1.20 per bushel.

Yours truly,
CHANDLER, BROWN & CO.
